The Franco Chinese Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO July 10—Bearing on the dispatch from Paris last night that war between France and China is believed inevitable the Call this morning publishes a long article on information previously received from highly reliable sources confirming the statement. It also publishes a letter from Tse Tsung Sang military grand secretary, dated Tien Tsin May 10 1884 to a wealthy and influential Chinaman of this city announcing a determination to combat the French and ordering that a tax be levied on all Chinese here at Denver, New York and elsewhere in the United States for the purpose of providing funds for the imperial treasury. For this object half a million dollars was raised in this way and sent to China July 1 on the steamer Tokio. A like amount will be forwarded by the next steamer.

Another letter received through Tong King Sung president of the China Merchants Steam Navigation Company referring to previous correspondence says a secret treaty was made in December 1883 between Germany and China whereby the former will support the latter in a war with France. In return Germany is to exercise sovereignty over the island of Formosa and construct naval military stations at different points for the Chinese government. China will refuse the payment of the $250 000 000 indemnity to France.

A private dispatch received yesterday announces that a rebellion against the Tartar dynasty has broken out at Shoo Shing Fow and that the rebels are in possession of the city.

Whitelaw and the Umatilla.

SAN FRANCISCO July 11—[Special]—Whitelaw the English wrecker now trying to raise the sunken collier Umatilla is not making much headway. He lately tried to get her on an even keel but was not successful. A cofferdam is now being built over her upper works and when that is finished the hull will be pumped out and if the outside pressure of water is not too great it is thought that by that means she may be floated to the surface. It is proving an expensive and difficult job, and many predict that it will not be successful.

Why Desertion is so Common in the Army.

Colonel Gleeson

Unquestionably, the supply and surroundings of the enlisted man are better in every respect than they were thirty years ago. Yet desertion is none the less frequent showing that causes are at work independent of the considerations already dwelt upon. The matter has been discussed at length and various reasons suggested, such as the tyranny of the company commanders and non-commissioned officers, discontent with crowded quarters with coarse [illegible] while [illegible] with labor not strictly military [illegible] the prime reason after all being the worthlessness of the deserter. Over much [illegible] attached to complaints about superior officials. No doubt there are cranks in the service who are singularly gifted in the way of making things unpleasant to those under their charge, but there are fewer of these peculiar people now than formerly for the army in these days is not broken up into such small fractions and individualism is more or less absorbed in the larger combinations. The army too is and has been in closer contact with civil life generally, which tends to undo its provincialism. There is less isolation and a more direct supervision of the higher authorities, who are always prompt to detect and remedy disorder. But we by no means undervalue our [illegible] There is tyranny of the worst sort that wears no uniform. Any one who watches the phenomena of trades unions and labor [illegible] with their abject submission to some demagogue [illegible] more unscrupulous than the [illegible] the [illegible] tyranny of the inquisitorial meanness of church factions and village cliques, anyone who has contemplated from afar the petty interferences of rural officialism, the relentless rivalry and pretension of business and society in the metropolis may think himself most happy to be set free from all this even at the risk of collision with the army martinet. The latter may vex the body, the other tetters the soul. And the martinet after all, is only a man who carries the paternal theory of government to a stepfatherly extent or a sort of military ritualist who is over fond of power and busy with method. Strenua nos exercet inertia, testifying, however to the fact that the acorn must precede the oak, and that manner makes the man.

The Boston Traveler says that many of the gentlemen who signed the call for an anti-Blaine movement are now quietly slipping back under the republican banner.

ONE BALLOT.

The ballot taken before adjournment last night is of not much value as a pointer. It shows that the delegations mainly stood by their instructions. The next ballot will give some indication as to what they will do when they break away. It will take more of the small figures for Cleveland's two-thirds than he is likely to get. In fact, it would not be surprising to see the McDonald, Thurman and Carlisle strength go to Bayard, which would bring them well together for a struggle. It will be observed that Butler is laying back with his forces, waiting for what shall seem to him to be the favorable moment, Randall starts in with the whole of Pennsylvania and some from the outside. While Thurman and McDonald show a little following outside their states—Thurman none to brag of when we consider that he had California and Oregon behind him. Carlisle has the compliment of one vote which did not come from Kentucky.

To-day will tell the story of the nomination, but, as some one has said, there is "this world, one more, and then the ironworks." Randall is the only man in his party who can survive the ironworks.

THE TARIFF PLANK.

The third day brings us along to the loose planks of the platform upon which the democrats will place their candidate, and since there is not the slightest interest felt in any part of the platform except that relating to tariff, we were given that plank several hours in advance of the rest of the lumber. The whole affair can be inspected by those who care to wade through it. But this tariff plank is a curious one to come from the political carpentry of Watterson and Morrison. They admit that the present system must continue, and remark that many industries have sprung into existence under it, and then talk vaguely about some other system for some other time. Why should the democratic platform, in its most important plank, tell us that the revenues of the country are collected at the custom houses and from a tax on distilled spirits? Of course they are, and always will be. This plank is a bushy lot of words to be working at so long. It is more vapid than the absurd talk Butler makes in his dissenting plank about tea and coffee, which have been free for years, without much benefit to consumers, either, though some Dutch shipowners make a trifle more than they did before, by the kindness of our congress in taking the duty off coffee.

How different this tariff plank is from that outspoken one in the republican platform, in which the party of progress says without equivocation that it believes it to be the duty of a good government to protect the rights and promote the interests of its own people while collecting sufficient revenue to pay the necessary expenses of conducting the government. The democrats talk as though the republicans wanted to collect money at the custom houses for some other purpose, though their vague hints are intended for the American manufacturers, especially of iron. They need not fear that the hint will be lost, for it will not. Both the manufacturers and the workingmen will see the point, and accordingly proceed to elect Blaine on the plain, straightforward platform. Not only has the democratic party failed completely to relieve the people of the burden of unnecessary taxation by a wise reduction of the surplus, as the republicans in their platform pledged themselves to do, but now, in their convention, the democrats dawdle about the matter without telling what they would do, even if they should have a better opportunity than is afforded by their majority in the house.

TRANSPORTATION OF ANIMALS.

A decision has just been rendered in the circuit court of the United States, district of Massachusetts, by Justice Gray, affirming the constitutionality of the law to prevent cruelty to animals in transportation. The statute provides that no railroad company carrying cattle "shall confine the same" in its cars "for a longer period than twenty-eight consecutive hours," without unloading the same for rest, water and feeding, "for a period of at least five consecutive hours," and that "in estimating such confinement the time during which the animals have been confined without such rest on connecting roads, from which they are received, shall be included, it being the intent of this section to prohibit their continuous confinement beyond the period of twenty-eight hours."

As the statute provides that "when animals are carried in cars, boats, or other vessels in which they can and do have proper food, water, space, and opportunity to rest, the provisions in regard to their being unloaded shall not apply," special inducements are offered to railroad companies to supply themselves with the most improved facilities for transporting live stock. A circular signed by the president and secretary of the American Humane Association says: "The improved cattle cars offer, in our judgment, the most humane solution of the problem of live stock transportation, and our hope is that the enforcement of the law may turn attention more and more to such cars and hasten their introduction into general use." In this hope all the friends of the association and all humane people generally will unite. It is desirable also for pecuniary and sanitary reasons that animals in transportation should be relieved, so far as possible, from every discomfort, and it is gratifying to know that the United States law can be made an immediate and powerful agent in promoting this end.

According to the Chicago Tribune, a certain western railroad man went to New York to borrow money on the bonds of his company; the banks turned a cold shoulder upon him because his bonds had no recognized standing in the exchange; he proceeded to give them a standing; he listed them; he bid a certain price, and sold them to himself at that figure, losing the brokerage in so doing; the next day he raised the bid and sold to himself again; the next day and the next he continued to peg them up, and finally reaching a good substantial price he took them again to the banks and borrowed on them within a small percentage of the last bid which he had made to himself. He now has the money, and the banks have the bonds, but there are no longer any dealings in them.

No one at Chicago mentions Wm. R. Holman, and yet the old gentleman made a better record at the last moment than Speaker Carlisle, who ran away; or Randall, who was so anxious to get away that he could think of nothing but Chicago; or Flower, who did nothing, as usual. Holman took up the claim of Eliza Edward Powers and had it passed, so the once generous lady gets seven thousand dollars to help her through her latest years, along with the blessings of the soldiers her money cared for more than twenty years ago. And yet Holman is not even complimented by a nomination. Is it possible that each one of all the orators in the convention has at some time been the victim of one of Holman's objections?

An elderly gentleman died in Boston a few days ago who, according to some of the ablest physicians of the country, had only one lung, and who was given up as very short-lived when he was a young man. He died at the age of 84, and a post-mortem examination proved that he not only had two lungs, but that both of them were unusually sound. What makes the case still more remarkable is the fact that the man was himself a physician.

The Charleston, S. C., News and Courier understands John Kelly and Tammany hall, and says: "His influence lies wholly in the direction of his ability and willingness to sell a few votes to the republicans in return for the party power that a little municipal patronage gives him in New York city. This is Mr. John Kelly's power, and it is the whole of it."

PRIVATE CHARACTER OF CANDIDATES.

We incur the risk of being misunderstood in saying it, perhaps, but it is our deliberate opinion that nothing is gained to the cause of morality by attacking the private character of candidates for office. We do not mean that a candidate's private character ought not to be pure. This every man's character should be, whether a candidate for office or not. It is because people are so inconsistent that opposition to candidates because of their private character has such a demoralizing influence. If a voter has personal, or political or pecuniary reasons for supporting a man for any office, he will do it, even when he does not approve the man's private character. He may do it with mental or moral reservations, but the fact that he does it shows that it is impossible to be consistent or sincere when we make the private character of men the alleged ground of our opposition or support. The story so often told that Lincoln wished he knew what kind of rum General Grant was in the habit of drinking that he might recommend it to other generals, when the complaint was made that Grant was drunk on a certain occasion, illustrates our meaning. All we asked at that time was that Grant should defeat the rebel army, and we preferred that he should succeed even though he might drink rum, rather than that a total abstinence general should fail. We select men for office that they may accomplish for us certain ends, and it is their adaptation to the end in view, and their fidelity to it which we take into consideration when we decide on any other grounds than those which are strictly personal to ourselves whether we will vote for them or not. When we oppose the election of one man because of his bad private character, and the next time support a man whose character is no better, we set an example which is confusing to the minds of young people, and hence its demoralizing tendency. It is desirable, of course, that every man we honor with public office should be personally worthy, but as a matter of fact we do not indorse his private character when we elect him to office, nor do we necessarily condemn the character of the men we oppose politically. It is in politics, as in business, so difficult as to be almost impossible to be consistent. Politics are not morals, and cannot be made morals, though they ought to be moral.

Twelve years ago Timothy O. Howe of Wisconsin circulated a paper in the United States senate, of which he was then a member, which bound its signers to use their efforts to prevent the circulation of the New York Tribune in their several states. The Tribune then depended largely upon the efforts of the country postmasters in forming clubs of subscribers to it, and Senator Howe's idea was that the postmasters should be threatened with removal if they continued this practice. In some of the states this boycotting process was temporarily successful. The fault of the Tribune then was its frank expression of the opinion that President Grant ought not to be renominated in 1872. The thought of a third party, or of leaving the republican party, had not then occurred to Mr. Greeley, and but for this unrepublican persecution might not have occurred to him. Mr. Howe was a narrow partisan who attained eminence only by devotion to the great idea which enlisted the sympathy of loyal men to the exclusion of all others for the time being. He was afterward the sponsor for all that is embraced in the term Grantism. His political policy, like that of Roscoe Conkling's was characterized by the word "thorough." But the policy gave his state temporarily over to the democrats and retired Mr. Conkling to private life. The people of this country do not approve of any censorship of the press except that which the fundamental law sets up while guaranteeing its proper freedom.

There has been a good deal of very hot weather in the eastern states and fewer sunstrokes than usual. This warrants the conclusion that a better article of whisky must be sold than formerly.

STATE ASSOCIATION OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES.

The Congregational Association of Oregon and Washington territory met in the First Congregational church of this city yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, and was called to order by Rev. Dr. Frederic P. Marvin, pastor of the church. Prayer was offered by Rev. Samuel S. Woods of Astoria. A hymn was sung, after which the roll was called and the following ministers were found to be present, and the following churches represented by delegates: Revs. D. B. Gray, M. Eells, F. R. Marvin, A. W. Bower, J. W. Watts, G. H. Atkinson, M. F. Cobleigh, F. V. Hoyt, R. S. Stubbs and J. Harris. The following churches were represented: Oregon City, Forest Grove, Albany, Portland, Salem, The Dalles, Astoria, East Portland, North Portland and Cheney.

Rev. D. B. Gray of The Dalles was elected moderator. Rev. M. Eells of Skokomish was elected clerk. Mr. George H. Himes was elected assistant clerk to prepare certificates for members who wish to avail themselves of reduced railroad fare.

The church at Corvallis sent in a request for admission to the association, and were received by vote.

The following ministers were received at their own request into the association: Rev. N. McCullom of Sprague, Rev. G. A. Rockwood of Oregon City, and Rev. S. Woods of Astoria.

Mr. O. L. Fay, a member of the Congregational church of Appleton, Wisconsin, was invited to sit as corresponding member.

Mr. E. C. Frost, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of this city, was also invited to sit as corresponding member. Mr. Frost extended an invitation to the association to make use of the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. during their meetings in Portland.

Rev. F. R. Marvin was then introduced by the moderator and delivered an address of welcome in which he said the peculiarities of Congregationalism are summed up in three principles: The entire independency of the churches, the equality of all the members in every local church, and the fellowship of the churches. He said the Congregational church was the oldest of all denominations, having been established by the apostles themselves. He greeted the delegates and said the hearts and homes of his people were open to them all.

To Dr. Marvin's address the moderator made a brief but felicitous response.

It was voted that the business committee be also a committee on resolutions. By vote of the association the evening service was omitted in order to give the members an opportunity to hear Mrs. Foster, who represented temperance at the Taylor street Methodist church. After prayer by G. A. Rockwood the association adjourned to meet at 2 in the afternoon.

At 1 o'clock the association was called to order by the moderator, who conducted a brief season of prayer and song, after which the history of the churches was read by Rev. A. W. Bower. The narrative showed the churches to be for the most part in a very good condition and some of them have made great progress.

Eccentric People.

Atlantic Monthly.

Half the people who are called eccentric deserve to have a much worse epithet applied to them. Here and there a man or woman is found whose odd ties of opinion and erratic conduct are genuine, and the outcome of some real inborn twist in their mental and moral disposition. Such persons are generally tolerable, and sometimes very likable, their idiosyncrasies serving as a gentle entertainment rather than as annoyance to us. We feel that they are unaware of their own queerness, which is the result of a native incapacity to comprehend the ordinary conventions of society. But there are other people whose eccentricities are not, or ought not, to be endured. They are not innocently ignorant, but willfully disregardful of a reign of law in the social world. The world's judgments are no doubt superficial, and therefore very commonly defective or false; but the world's conventions—that is, its rules tacitly agreed on for the preservation of the order and decency of social intercourse—are on the whole respectable and to be observed. But the unendurable "eccentric" prides himself upon being a law to himself in these matters. He likes to know that his acquaintances are saying of him, "O that is Mr. B.'s way, you know. He is not like other people; he always does and says just what he pleases." And the notable fact is that so many persons are imposed on by this absurd affectation that they will let certain behavior pass for independence and originality which is nothing but simple rudeness, the expression of egotism and ill breeding.

A London clergyman has taken advantage of the organ grinders and organized a band of musicians, who with organs and pianos play on the streets, collecting money for charitable purposes.

The worst blood diseases are cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Its effects are felt immediately.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Washington Territory.

Walla Walla Union: On Sunday night last a 15 year old daughter of Mr. Holmes, living in Reed's addition, fell down a flight of stairs and seriously injured her spinal column. Since the accident the unfortunate girl has suffered intense pain.

Some time ago Mr. Duff, residing in Whitman county, lost twenty-one head of cattle. Suspecting the work of thieves, Mr. Duff began to trace the matter up, and as a result had two brothers named Jenkins arrested and bound over to appear before the grand jury. To make his case stronger, Mr. Duff followed up ten of his animals across Snake river to Dayton, where they were disposed of by the Jenkinses to an innocent purchaser, who, in turn, brought eight of them to Walla Walla and sold them to Chris. Ennis & Co. When Mr. Duff arrived at Walla Walla he found that of the eight head, six had been slaughtered and two were yet in the corral.

At a recent meeting of the common council of Walla Walla, a number of annual reports were submitted. During the year there were issued on the general, fire, road, cemetery and license funds, $30,-315 13. The street commissioner reported total cost of street, creek and sidewalk work for the year ending July 1, 1884, $8630; for material, $5280 45. Total, $13,778 08. The health officer reported 169 deaths; 14 from contagious diseases. Births, 307, 52 males, 55 females. There were three cases of twins. The mortality of the city was less than 1½ per cent. The marshal reported as follows: Arrests, 231; days in jail, 492. The police judge reported 237 arrests; convictions, 181; fines imposed, $1775 25; collected, $901 75; in jail, 492 days.

Tuesday morning a son of Alex Ragan was coming down a grade on his father's ranches, near Dayton, with a load of hay, the rack became fast to a wheel, rendering the team unmanageable and forcing them over a perpendicular cliff of rocks about twelve feet high, instantly killing one of the horses and breaking several ribs of the other one. The boy escaped without injury, the wagon being damaged but little. The team was a good one, the animal killed being a valuable mare.

Says the Dayton Chronicle: From the best information we have been able to obtain, the grain yield of eastern Washington for 1884 will greatly exceed that of 1883 both in quality and quantity. Spring grain does not look as it would if the showers had come a little sooner, but fall grain is as good as the average farmer could desire. If wheat brings a fair figure this fall, we predict better times than we have had for several years, not so much from an increase of the grain crop as from the fact that in view of the prevailing hard times our farmers have not gone in debt as heavily as previous years. Many of them have bought nothing but the bare necessities of life, and have practiced economy whenever it was possible. Money could not be tighter than it is at present, but in a few months more we look for a change for the better, which will no doubt be hailed with delight by every business man in the towns.

Western Oregon.

Samuel Miller died at his home, Summit Farm, Clackamas county, at the age of 77 years, 10 months and 2 days, July 3. Mr. Miller was a native of New Jersey, and emigrated to Oregon from Missouri in 1850, having resided one year in the latter state, and previously twelve or fifteen years in Indiana. In 1851 he settled on his farm across the river, where he resided continuously until the day of his death. He leaves two sons and three daughters. Being a millwright by trade, Mr. Miller at one time engaged in the sawmill business here and until the mill now operated by George Broughton in partnership with George Pease.

A McMinnville exchange says: The most severe rain storm we have ever witnessed in Oregon passed over this section last Sunday. For about ten minutes the rain fell in torrents and was accompanied by an occasional hail storm. Fortunately for our fall grain, there was no wind, or the damage would probably have been great. As it was, the storm passed harmlessly by, except to dampen the interior of a few flat roofed buildings.

"I want to present Augustus with a cane," said a young New York lady, "but I don't know what size he wears."

"What do you mean by size?" was the question. "Are canes of different sizes?"

"Oh, yes, and one has to be very careful in selecting them. I shouldn't like to send dear Augustus a cane with a head big enough to choke him."

CITY.

WAR ON THE THISTLES.—By direction of Chief of Police, Policeman Elwanger has formed his ... of prisoners in line of battle against the thistles. The patches at the north end of the city ... a day or two since in THE OREGONIAN have been laid low and the warfare will be kept up as long as a thistle rears its head within the city limits. This is only one of many bits of good work Policeman Elwinger has rendered. It is seldom that a Scot is found in the chaingang, but an old ... found in the chaingang but ... unfortunate as to find himself there at his ... it would grieve him sorely to make war upon the beloved emblem of his native land. The chief of police as is his duty is in earnest in ... to exterminate the thistles before they become a widespread pest. The ordinance in regard to thistles reads as follows: "It shall be the duty of the chief of police to insert or cause to be inserted in the official paper of the city a notice requiring all thistles within the limits of the city to be cut, dug up or otherwise destroyed. Every occupant of all occupied premises and every owner or agent of all unoccupied premises within the corporate limits of the city who shall permit any thistles to blossom or to grow upon such premises, or in front of or abutting upon the same, owned or occupied by them or for which they are agents, after the publication of the notice as herein provided, shall upon conviction before the police court, be liable to a fine of not less than ... nor more than $20, or imprisonment in the city jail not less than three nor more than ten days." The chief says he will publish this notice as required and then wants it distinctly understood that the ordinance will be strictly enforced. He proposes to keep the city's property clear from thistles and demands that private individuals shall also do their part.

GARROTED AND ROBBED.—About 11 o'clock last night ... was garroted at the corner of Sixth and ... streets and robbed of a gold watch and chain worth about $125. He was on his way home when ... one running up behind him but before he could look behind an arm was thrown around his neck and his windpipe squeezed in a most uncomfortable manner. At the same time another fellow jumped in front of him and aimed a blow at him "below the belt" which knocked the wind out of him and he was unable to call for help. The thugs told him that if he made any attempt to cry out they would kill him. He then told them to take what he had and not to murder him. The fellow in front of him took his watch and locket and ran his hands through Mr. Mellis' pockets taking his knife, but missed a small purse in which was about $100. He had some change in his pistol pocket, which they also failed to find. He thinks they are both young men. They were dressed in dark clothing. He at once notified the police of his loss and an officer was sent to look for any such fellows were going off on ... Mr. Mellis complained of his throat ... and it is evident that he received a pretty severe squeeze. This is the first case of garroting that has occurred here for some time. People who have occasion to be out late at night will do well to look out for these thugs, but may rest assured that they will not play their game here long with an efficient police force, who will soon run them down.

CONSTABLE ARRESTED.—Luzerne Besser who ... known to our citizens comes to the surface ... with the character of a larcenist but on a ... He has sworn out a warrant in Justice ... court for the arrest of Captain Turner of the ... police on a charge of larceny by bailee. Turner ... was arrested by Constable Lichtenthaler but is at ... out on bail. It will be remembered that when ... the police clerk his chief went to Texas, and ... Turner was left in charge of the force. The ... thought proper at this time to remove Besser ... and instructed Turner to take his keys ... the books and money in his charge. ... and a few days afterward brought ... a check which he said he had forgotten to turn over. Turner said "all right" and took the money ... what he had received before and ... the whole in the bank. After ... returned from his historic trip to Texas he ... told Turner that he had better pay him that $31 out of the money, which of course Turner refused to do ... Turner two months after he gave him ... that it belonged to the street fund and that ... was harping at him for it. But the city ... and no doubt has the right to it.

THE GRAND LODGE A. O. U. W.—The Grand Lodge of A. O. U. W. in session in this city ... most of the day to resolutions and reports ... in the afternoon the grand lodge officers were elected ... as follows: G. M. W., T. B. Handley; G. F., J. P. ...; G. O., D. T. Wheeler; G. R., H. Newcomb; G. R., I. R. Moores; G. G., Russel; G. W., G. ...; ... trustee, H. H. Brodeck; superintendent ... Bradshard, Childs and Newcomb ... his jurisdiction was changed so as to ... Columbia. An effort to reduce grand ... salary was lost, a large majority favoring ... A great amount of important ... was placed in the hands of the various committees, who are directed to report to-day. A ... was admitted as a representative from ... No. 7 of this city, instituted Wednesday ... Several disputed claims are in the hands of committees for consideration with pros... of favorable consideration, a disposition to settle, regardless of technical points, seeming ... A resolution granting the grand recorder the privilege of selecting the locality for his head ... and the office will remain in this city.

ESTATE OF AN ESTATE.—Yesterday, County Judge ... issued an order in the matter of the estate of ... Normandia, deceased fixing August 11, 1884 as ... for hearing the final account of the administrator ... and the closing up of the estate. Normandia ... Frenchman who was brought to the city ... and examined regarding his ... on that particular day he appeared to be ... sane and was so adjudged by the board of ... physicians. He then returned to his ... at Mount Tabor and that same night committed suicide by jumping into a well. He was possessed of considerable money and property ... suspicions of foul play were at once aroused ... went so far as to result in the arrest of the ... with whom Normandia had been living, upon the charge of murder. A thorough investigation ... resulted in their discharge and complete ... being proven beyond a doubt that at ... Normandia was violently insane.

SIGNS OF A RUSH.—It was a very fortunate ... fire up town broke out first yesterday ... Had the new Couch hotel started first and ... gone down there the other fire would have ... such a start that there is no telling the ... amount of damage that would have been done. The ... of THE OREGONIAN would like to have a little attention paid to their convenience in the matter of fires. When two fires are to come off ... some precautions should be taken to ... them nearer together than those of yesterday. By the time a fellow has raced from ... office up to Columbia street and ... over by a hose cart drenched with water ... by fire, and then takes a goose you please ... to Weidler's sawmill and then back to ... as if the cattle were being rushed ...

TRYING A SAMPLE.—The U. S. Electric Light ... has obtained a permit to put up five lights on ... Washington street, to be placed on poles at the ... in order to test that style of lighting. The Oregon Electric Company will probably ... and meet a must, so as to give us a ... of the style in which they propose to light. The council should have a practical illustration of both plans before adopting either. Some ... opinion that numerous gas lamps will be ... to either. The electric light has not ... success everywhere. A few years ago it ... introduced in Paris and London but ... abandoned. The light has probably been ... since that time but whether it can be further ... than gas remains to be seen.

A NEW STEAMER ROUTE.—Commencing next week the ... Traveler will make regular daily trips between LaCamas and Portland leaving LaCamas at 7 ... A. M. and Portland at 4:30 P. M. We predict ... will be the most popular route out of Portland ... will be the first to offer the people an opportunity to reach the mountains on Saturday evenings and return on Monday morning. It will be also ... to the people above Vancouver because ... them a chance to visit Portland and return the same day.

DRAMATIC REVIVAL.—The dramatic ... Mr. Frederick Warde and Miss Kate Forsythe ... supported by the Williams and Tillotson dramatic company begins at New Market theatre on Monday evening and continues for one week, during which time the plays of Lynwood, ... Virginius and Ingomar will be presented. The box office for the sale of reserved seats ... at Cornelius' drug store.

SERENADED.—Company G Oregon state militia ... was photographed on the Fourth as they assembled ... They took station in front of the residence of Hon. H. W. Corbett whose handsome lawn ... made a decidedly attractive background. ... of neatly uniformed militiamen. One of ... pictures shown in W. B. Ayer & Co's window under a large lens attracted considerable attention.

NEW LAW FIRM.—O. F. Paxton of this city and ... Bennett, late judge of the fifth judicial district, have formed a partnership for the purpose of practicing law and will have their office at the ... corner of First and Stark. Col. Frank V. Drake has been admitted to the firm of Coy & Dahms and the firm will be known hereafter as Coy, Dahms & Drake.

ACQUITTED.—G. Pater, arrested for selling liquor without a license, had a jury trial in the police court yesterday and was acquitted. Mr. Pater claims that the charge was simply spite work on the part of O ... by whom he was instrumental in having ... from the police force. The costs were taxed to the prosecuting witness.

A SAD FRACTURE.—About six years ago Mr. ... Johnson of Astoria had the misfortune to ... his leg, which was amputated above the knee. Yesterday he fell on the sidewalk near his ... business on the roadway and fractured the ... stump just below the thigh. Surgical aid was promptly procured, and no serious results are apprehended.

THE NARROW GAUGE ROADS.—Mr. William Reid of this city leaves for Scotland to-morrow. It is understood that his mission is a conference with the bond holders of the Oregonian railway company, limited, in which he will try to impress on them the necessity of finishing the line to Portland as originally intended. Otherwise the property will simply waste away to nothingness. The total estimated cost of bringing the road into Portland is $380,000 and the work can be done now and rails bought for less than when the estimate was made. Besides this it will cost about $61,000 to restore the bridges over the North and South Santiam. A bridge across the Willamette at Ray's landing will cost $100,000 so that the entire outlay of putting the road in order from the head of the valley on both sides of the river and finishing the line into Portland will be within half a million dollars. Still a bridge is not absolutely necessary as a ferry could be used to transfer cars at Ray's landing. Whether the bond holders will feel inclined to put up the half million required is doubtful. They have begun suit against the O. R. & N. Co. for the amount of interest defaulted last month and hope to get judgment. One of the conditions upon which the lease was negotiated reads: "The lessors have abandoned construction from Dundee to Portland." Now if the Scotch company should commence construction into Portland this might be offered as a good defense by the O. R. & N. who could claim that the lessors had violated an important stipulation. Still it is possible that some sort of a compromise will be made between the companies and the road finished.

BASEBALL AS SHE IS PLAYED.—This afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be highly exciting game of base ball at the Bishop Scott grammar school grounds. Here is how the match came to be arranged. The young men boarding at Mrs Hill's, corner Yamhill and Seventh, were boasting of how well they used to play ball at college and expressed the ability to bat any of these new fangled curves. At these brags ... the young men boarding at Mrs Troupe's on the next corner jeered and volunteered the opinion that not half of the boasters could tell the difference between a two base hit and a back stop. This created some feeling which resulted in a challenge to Mrs. Hill's boarders from Mrs Troupe's. The articles provide that the match be fought to a finish according to the Marquis of Queensbury rules, no preliminary training to be indulged in and no contestant to wear hard gloves. Ah there will be a lively game this afternoon. By stipulation between counsel on both sides runs are limited to thirty in each inning.

WANT A NEW TRIAL.—The case of Haynes vs Murray came up in the county court again yesterday upon the plaintiff's motion for a new trial. The plaintiff in the case is a tailor or dealer in furnishing goods in some little town in New England where there is an academy or college, and the defendant is Mrs Dr. ... Murray, of this city. The suit was brought to recover a certain sum of money between two and three hundred dollars alleged to be due for clothes furnished to Harry Carpenter, a son of Dr. Murray who was attending school in the town where the plaintiff did business. The amount of clothes put down in the bill as furnished to the young man ought to have been sufficient for two or three youths of extravagant taste and in consequence Dr. Murray decided not to pay it, claiming that her boy being a minor could not contract such debts in her name without her consent. She won her case in the county court and hence the plaintiff's motion for a new trial which was taken under advisement.

DEATH OF AN OLD PIONEER.—The Oregon City Enterprise says: "A. D. Sturgess died at his home on the Mollala on July 4, at the age of 86 years 1 month and 4 days. Mr. Sturgess arrived in this county about 1852 from Pennsylvania. He was always even in his old age a man of untiring industry and had amassed considerable means. Though not yet recovered from a recent attack of sickness he went out to do hard manual labor, a sudden relapse set in and death followed not long thereafter. The eyes of Mr. Sturgess were never dimmed by old age. He always read without glasses. He often related that he made a trip up the Hudson on Fulton's first steamboat. Since Robert Fulton launched his first steamer on the Hudson river in 1807 Mr. Sturgess must then have been a mere slip of a boy perhaps the cabin boy.

PROVES SATISFACTORY.—Although only a few months have passed since the city undertook the job of cleaning its own streets, the experiment has proved a success and the superiority of this plan over the contract system is fully demonstrated. Notwithstanding that the streets were in a most horrible condition when the work was commenced being encumbered with the filth of years they are now cleaner, better kept and more free from dust than ever before. And this has been and is being done at a much less cost than would be possible under the contract system. There will be a considerable surplus left from the ⅓ mill tax levied for street cleaning purposes and it may be expected that the city will continue to do this work for itself.

TURK AND MARR.—Mrs Mary Marr who has been held to answer to the grand jury on three charges of larceny by bailee preferred by sailors desires it stated that neither of the complaining witnesses made a demand from her for their baggage and that her arrest was a job of Jim Turk, who wanted to get three boarders away from her. Mrs Marr is almost totally deaf and probably did not hear the demands. What a pity it was that Turk and Mrs Marr's husband did not meet. However a bitter feeling exists between them and if they would only turn loose on each other in dead earnest and—but no. That would be too good. They will probably keep alive and take care of every poor sailor that gets in their clutches.

THE LAWN PARTY.—Nothing could have been prettier or more inviting than the grounds of Mrs H. L. Pittock where the ladies of the Unitarian church gave their second lawn party Wednesday evening. There was just enough illumination in the trees and on the shrubbery to give a romantic air while neat tables with dainty white covers under the broad boughs, several tents and booths and a merry throng in summer dress at careless ease made a beautiful picture. Not the least among the amusements for the younger persons was the open air dancing to the music of an excellent orchestra. It is not necessary to say that the affair was a social success.

NEW LODGE OF A. O. U. W.—A. W. Witherell, D. D. G. M., instituted a new lodge of A. O. U. W. in South Portland Wednesday evening. The new lodge will be known as Star Lodge No. 27. The officers installed were: A. Thomas, P. M. W.; T. W. L. Cecil, M. W.; Andrew McKenzie, F.; John Dudley, Overseer; W. B. McKenzie, Recorder; J. H. King, Financier; Geo. W. Ogden, Receiver; John Kirkly, Guide; H. G. Reed, I. W.; Charles Kringel, O. W. The lodge was organized by Past Master Thompson and starts out with a good membership.

CAN GO NO FURTHER.—Fishing on the bar has apparently reached its limit this season says the Astorian. Time was when few fish were caught below Astoria, then the boats began dropping to Scarborough head, finally to Sand Island, and for the last three seasons the bar has been the scene of the greatest activity. But this season it is of common occurrence for boats to go even outside the bar, lay the net, make a haul and cross in. It is a risky business and those who take such chances earn well the few dollars they get.

AN INNOVATION.—Sojourners at Ilwaco and North Beach have heretofore experienced much trouble in getting their OREGONIAN and mails regularly. To overcome this inconvenience Mr. Peter Blankholm of Astoria has provided means for quick transportation of THE OREGONIAN and mails in his care all along the beach. He will canvass, pay strict attention to business and may be relied upon.

NO CRIME DISCOVERED.—The murdered man reported Wednesday on the west side road, has so far failed to materialize. The girls who saw him beaten to death searched with help of others all around the scene of the sanguinary deed but could find no dead man or any traces of blood. It is evident that the victim must have made his escape during the night and covered up all traces of the crime.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

The New Board begin their Regular Monthly Duties—Liquor Licenses Granted—Road Matters Considered and Acted Upon.

The new board of commissioners for Multnomah county, consisting of County Judge Stearns and Messrs. H. W. Corbett and George W. Roberts, who were elected to succeed Messrs. Jacon and Glose, met for the first time on Wednesday and are now fairly engaged in transacting the regular business that has come up since the old board adjourned. There were very few unfinished matters, the work of the last term having been kept up close to the end. Considerable business was transacted yesterday.

One of the first matters to demand the attention of the board was the petition from H. B. Oatman, Peter ..., Kelly, F. Opitz, Hiram A. Ozer and others for the establishment of a county road from the Milwaukie road to the Foster road. Viewers and assessors of damages had been appointed and these were now ready to report. The damages awarded by the assessors were approved by the commissioners. The report of the viewers was read a second time and the road established. The new highway will be ... feet wide and its point of beginning is on the road from East Portland to Milwaukie at a point where it is intersected by the south line of the Gideon Tibbetts donation land claim and from thence by the most direct line to the Foster road.

Messrs. O. M. Wiberg, Wm. Braden and A. E. Borthwick were appointed viewers in the matter of the vacating that portion of the Portland and Foster road commencing at the junction of the Portland and Foster and Powell roads in S. 11, T. 1 S., R. 2 E., thence westward to the intersection of the road running west from No. 12 school house. The viewers to meet at the above mentioned school house on July 23, together with County Surveyor Mayre.

A new bridge being needed in the section of road it was ruled that a warrant issue to Gustaf Peterson, road supervisor for that district for $125 for the purpose of building such bridge.

A petition for the vacation of certain streets in the Brown tract was also granted.

Multnomah county not having elected a justice of the peace at the last election, James Richey was appointed to fill such vacancy.

The commissioners also examined the accounts of County Treasurer Showers and counted the money balance which still remained in his hands at the close of the last term of his office, finding everything correct, the accounts tallying to a cent.

Two applications were made for county licenses to sell spirituous liquors, one in Fulton and one in Albina precinct. The regular steps necessary for obtaining such licenses having been taken and there being no opposition both were granted. The one in Albina was issued to Albert Kitzman for one year, for which he pays $50. John Brentle and John T. Dunn became his bondsmen, upon his oath to keep a respectable orderly house. Robert Reitelman is the person to whom the license was granted in Fulton precinct, which license is for six months only. His bondsmen are Charles G. Schramm and John Brennan.

LOSSES BY YESTERDAY'S FIRE.

Owing to the fact of two fires occurring at the same time yesterday morning at a considerable distance from each other, and the lateness of the hour, THE OREGONIAN was unable to furnish the usual full account of the losses and insurance which were as follows:

L. Frymale, 201 First street, loses machinery, stock and by damage to engine about $3000. He was insured in White & Riggen's agency of the Oakland Home for $1400. The upper story was occupied by Mr. Gotshall as a sash and door factory. His losses ... worth about $1500, insured for $1000. The building belonged to M. J. Mulkey and was valued at $5... Insured in the State Investment Company for $2...

No. 2 Front, owned by Mr. Mulkey and occupied by W. J. Graham, architect next burned. It was valued at $400. Insured in the State Investment Company for $..

The fire next communicated to the building on the corner of Couch and Front owned by George H. Weitler ... as a saloon ... The flames spread ... that Mr. Weitler barely had time to get his children ... down stairs ... and on returning was ... to find his wife in her night ... He then called a ... and ... attempted to save $... from a drawer, but a revolver lying ... commenced banging away like an ... and Mr. W. had to fly for his life. His loss including the building (which stood on Mr. Mulkey's ground) stock, clothing and furniture is about $24... Insured in the Oakland Home for $800.

A building at the rear of Weitler's saloon belonging to M. J. Mulkey was totally destroyed. Loss $..00, no insurance. The lower story was vacant. The upper story was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Pelton as a residence. They lost all their furniture valued at $300, no insurance.

The unfurnished building adjoining, owned by Mulkey, valued at $300, was partially burned. Insured in the State Investment Company for $100.

The cooper shop of James Killeen adjoining, Plymale's building on the north, had a narrow escape. The roof was badly burned and his furniture and clothing of his family who reside in the second story rendered almost worthless. His losses are on furniture and clothing $200, damage to building about $400, staves and lumber destroyed and damaged $1000. He had $400 insurance on the building in the Marine Insurance Company.

Too much praise cannot be given to Chief Engineer Morgan and the members of the fire department for the admirable manner in which the fire was handled and the bravery and endurance they exhibited. The fire was one of the hottest possible and it was only by exposing themselves to great danger that the buildings on the east side of Front street and Hobeymer's foundry were saved as they were upon the point of bursting into flames several times.

Sheriff Jordan was on hand and helped the boys to take up when the second alarm sounded for the fire at Couch hotel.

This fire broke out in the New Couch hotel owned by Mrs. Tim Stapleton, and not in the Couch hotel owned by R. Gerdes as was incorrectly stated yesterday.

Mr Gerdes' building cost $6000. Insured for $4000. The furniture and pictures in the barroom were owned by Gerdes and Holzfuhr and were valued at $500, uninsured.

Mrs Stapleton's loss on building and furniture was about $7000. The building was insured for $4000, $1500 in the Hamburg Bremen Insurance Company and $2500 in Hawes's agency. The furniture was insured for $1500 in the Hamburg Bremen.

OBITUARY

Died at his residence in Harrisburg, Linn county Oregon, Alfred Humphrey, aged 68 years.

Alfred Humphrey was born in Berkshire county Massachusetts December 17, 1815. In 1824 his parents moved to what was then "the far west," and settled in Loraine county Ohio. Here the boy grew up to manhood. The now celebrated Oberlin college was instituted about this time, and young Humphrey was enrolled among the pupils who attended this school during the first term ever taught. His collegiate career was brief. In those days but few could afford a full course at school, one or two terms usually being the limit. In his twenty sixth year he was married to Orpha Snow and some time in the summer of this year he moved still farther west and located in Fairfield, Iowa. In 1843 his wife died and in 1849 he was again married while living in Fairfield to Polly W. Loomis, the present widow. Happy as was his early marriage he found in his second companion and in his maturer years a quieter but deeper rest and happiness. The inbred restlessness of the early pioneer was ever urging him to ride on the steadily increasing wave of immigration further west. Listening to its promptings in the spring of 1853 in the company captained by Rosson Willough by he and his wife crossed the plains and settled at the foot of the mountains on the outskirts of the Willamette valley about ten miles east of Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon. Two years later he bought the south half of the Widow Ray donation claim two miles east of Harrisburg, and moved there. In this home two daughters were born. In November 1861 he united with the church in the faith and doctrine as held by the Church of the Disciples or Christians. He lived in this church a consistent and upright Christian gentleman to the hour of his death. His life was most exemplary. A kind and loving husband, a gentle and judicious father, an upright and honest neighbor and citizen, an inflexible unswerving and open handed Christian, he was beloved by all.

The same trust in God which he exemplified all through his life helped him through the agony of his last few days on earth. His final sickness dates back to a partial sunstroke received in the summer of 1881. Since that time he has never been well. His blood became more and more impure until poisoning set in and showed first in his right foot. The physicians, hoping against hope, took off his leg below the knee, but nothing short of a miracle could have saved him. Mortification rapidly developed and on the night of June at half past eleven he was called home. The untiring attention and loving care shown by the many friends and neighbors while he lived bear testimony to his worth and the long procession of carriages which followed his body to its final resting place and the tears that were shed, told stronger than words that he would be missed.

AMUSEMENTS.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.—The Boston Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Company opened at the New Market last night to a big house. While none of the cast can be singled out as exceptionally good it must be said that the principal roles were well sustained. A plantation scene is given far better than the average minstrel companies produce and it presented the novelty of a man with the bones imitating the various avocations of a barber. It brought out great applause and the climax where the artist gets in the sound of a razor going through the customer's beard awoke positive enthusiasm. The play will be given to-morrow and Saturday nights and a matinee Saturday.

How Blaine made one Convert.

Sacramento Record Union.

Men very often during election times especially presidential make some very reckless wagers and do some exceedingly foolish things. On the day before the presidential election in 1864 when Lincoln and McClellan were opposing candidates, William Baker, a wealthy Missouri farmer was in St. Louis. He was a strong democrat and an ardent admirer of Little Mac. He bet several thousand dollars on the election and when he could get no more bets he called for a notary public and in the presence of a number of friends and neighbors took a solemn oath that he would never wear a hat until a democrat was elected president.

In consequence of that foolish oath he has been going bareheaded for the past twenty years. At each recurring election he would work and pray for the democracy to win and when the news would come that the republicans were victorious he would remark: "Well, I will wear a hat after the next election." Several years since he came to California and settled in this county. His constantly being without a hat when at home or in the city, rain or shine, made him an object of curiosity and his eccentricity was remarked upon by strangers and others in ways very annoying to his family.

Last Friday one of his sons was in the city and returning to the ranch informed his aged father of the Chicago convention. The news almost paralyzed the old gentleman. He exclaimed: "What do you say?—Blaine and Logan, too? This is too much. There is no longer any hope for the old man. Hitch up the mare, go to the city and buy your old father a hat. If any one asks you what is the matter with me, tell them the old man has been making a d——d fool of himself for twenty years and now he is going to wear a hat and vote for Blaine."

Tomatoes and cucumbers are so plentiful in Florida that hundreds of acres of them are being plowed under because they are not worth the cost of the picking.

For this race the following well known horses have been entered: Mr. Murphy names Bogus Jones and Blue Mountain Belle and Mark Woods names George Wintler. NORTHERN PACIFIC MATTERS.

The Company Decide not to Build any Car Shops at Missoula—The Hopes of Thompson Falls.

The Northern Pacific Railway Company has decided not to build any car shops at Missoula and the Missoula Times says there are rumors that the inactivity of the Northern Pacific is for a purpose. Now the above is eagerly taken up by the good people of Thompson Falls, a new and thriving town which aims to be the principal feeder for the Coeur d'Alene country and great hopes are built up by them regarding the future location of the shops. The Coeur d'Alene ... of that date has the ... the ... citizens ...:

We have reason to believe that there is a movement on foot to erect the shops at Thompson Falls and the principal cause for the proposed change from Missoula to Thompson Falls is that in the first place the railway company own two thirds of the land in the townsite, comprising one mile square, and they can make more by ... sales of lots here by advertising that the shops will be put at this point and the branch railway built to the Coeur d'Alenes from this station. The management can ... Missoula was selected. The second reason is that the distance between Livingston on the east and Sprague on the west where there are shops being 54? miles, and that the greatest percentage of trouble from weather ... rainfall ... to bridges and trestles is between Sprague and Thompson Falls. It would be good judgment to locate the shops west of Missoula. A third reason is the great abundance of superior timber to be obtained by driving down the river to the large mills of the Montana Improvement Company at this point for use in the erection of the works and also as a source of supply for the car shops in the future. Moreover the machinery of the mills and shops can all be driven to great advantage by the utilization of the water power of the falls. No other place on the road offers so many inducements for such an enterprise and it is conceded by every person who has had a sight of it that the beauty of situation is beyond comparison. The point which is half way from Livingston to Sprague where the shops are on either side ... that Thompson Falls is really nearer half way than any place that is at all suitable for the works. Stranger things than the location of the shops here have occurred in the history of the railroad than have been dreamed of in thy philosophy, Horatio.

MRS. FOSTER'S LAST LECTURE.

Taylor street M. E. church was crowded to overflowing last evening, to listen again to the eloquent and gifted ... Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, who spoke on "Constitutional Prohibition." The lecture which was given under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. was preceded by an appropriate scripture reading by ... and followed by prayer by Dr. Watts. Mrs Riggs, president of the ... then introduced Mrs. Foster. It would be impossible without a full detailed report to give any adequate idea of the ... and convincing manner in which the talented speaker step by step carried the attention with her in arguments ... thought to the consummation of her theme, namely the necessity, practicability and feasibility of constitutional prohibition.

Mrs. Foster stated that notwithstanding the quibbles ... a few the mass of intelligent people agree with the authorities ... every state of the Union that legislation must be employed to restrict the liquor traffic. Three means to that end have been employed: Local option, special tax and prohibition. Local option works well in some places ... in others and where it should be enforced where it exists is not to be recommended. Counties and districts may banish the sale of liquor from their midst, only however to establish a chain of saloons on the boundary line.

Special tax or high license while it may lessen the number of saloons does not lessen the amount of liquor drank, convincing testimony to which end was given from the organs of the liquor sellers' association and its secretary. Restriction does not ... but drive the trade into the hands of so-called respectable dealers but in reality strengthens the hands of the keepers of low dives and gives them the power to make their attraction still more hellish.

Prohibition does prohibit, not in every case perhaps, but as surely as the law restricts stealing and more effectually, does prohibition suppress this curse of our day.

Statistics show that while the average amount of liquor consumed per capita amounted to $..40 in Maine when prohibition had been for some time in force it amounts now to but 4 cents.

Testimony from Judges, Governors ... was given in support of the practical good resulting from the enforcement of the law in his state.

The highest form of prohibition is when it is made constitutional. This secures a separate and sure vote, party feelings are laid aside and the voice of the people is heard. To this end we must long and work. The day is surely coming when the people will arise in their might and protect themselves and their children. No description can do justice to the eloquence, force of appeal and apt illustrations used by this gifted lady orator.

At the close a collection was taken for the benefit of the local work of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs Foster leaves Portland to day on her return home.

If you know what's good for you, you will visit the great clearance sale of Kohn & Steinbach, corner First and Morrison.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

THURSDAY, July 10.

The produce lines have moved slowly for the week, a rapidly closing season greatly contributing toward dullness. Few products have shown quotable changes in the time. On Sunday several hard showers fell but other days were fair to bright. To-day there is nothing to indicate an early change in the weather. Railway stocks have ruled irregular, yet have suffered considerable depreciation.

Overland receipts include 15 cs hams, 25 cs canned goods, 110 cs lard, 26 cs canned beef, 5 pkgs tobacco, 60 hf 60 kgs beer, 500 kgs nails.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 800 ctls of wheat, 504 bbls flour, 62 ctls oats, 372 ctls bran, 129 ctls millstuff, 56 sks potatoes, 957 lbs wool, 1910 lbs hides, 60 cs eggs, 32 bxs fruit, 7 bxs butter, 112 bls hay, 320 bbls lime. Also 204 ctls wheat, 330 bbls flour, 217 ctls millstuff, 64,400 lbs wool, 5,000 lbs hides from the eastern section.

Receipts for the past seven days aggregate 5671 ctls wheat, 3758 bbls flour, 1603 ctls oats, 483 ctls bran, 769 ctls millstuff, 511 sks potatoes, 223 bls hay, 496,425 lbs wool, 37,803 lbs hides, 67 pkgs butter, 340 cs eggs, 112 bxs fruit, 925 bbls lime.

Receipts by leading lines of transportation since August 1 last, as compared with same time last season, have been:

FREIGHTS—Other than the taking up of the German bark Æolus for lumber to Panama no transactions, spot or future, are to be reported. The ship Alameda is now ready for business, but shippers are indifferent. Nor do they apparently care to secure vessels ahead. The fleet now headed this way is quite small, the figures showing no important change from last week. The two or three vessels near at hand will do nothing until the new crop moves. The prospect of a larger crop than was harvested last year, together with the small amount of tonnage headed this way, gives shipowners more than the usual advantage. It also operates against spot wheat values, as we will be in no condition to hurry shipments. No doubt last year's experience has much to do with the present dullness, as shippers are loth to bind themselves to do business ahead. At San Francisco rates have recently ruled weak on spot, with a few vessels arriving under prior charter at 40s for Iron for orders. The Commercial News says: "Owing to the favorable weather for the crops in England, and to other causes, the market there has been adverse to the wheat and shipping interests of this port, so that on the eve of one of the finest harvests ever gathered in California, neither wheat nor freights show the first signs of probable activity in the near future. After many vicissitudes, ending with a great scare over heavy rains early in June, it is at last admitted by everyone that the wheat crop of the state is assured, and the exportable surplus is generally accepted to be 1,500,000 tons. The quality of the grain is also admitted to be superior to anything raised for a number of years past. With such a crop to be moved, freights should certainly be firm at paying rates, but the large quantity of spot tonnage, which will receive constant additions from the ample supply bound here, backed by the depressed state of the wheat trade abroad, has caused a very conservative policy to be pursued by exporters, and toward the close their offers for tonnage to arrive were reduced or withdrawn, and at the close there is very little business being done." These remarks may be largely applied to the local situation, except that our spot and to arrive tonnage is small in its quantity.

WHEAT—There is virtually no market at present, even millers not being classed as inquirers. Shippers have no needs, and evidently expect none for a time. Millers are giving their mills the usual renovation to be ready for the new crop. Nominal quotations remain at $1 40@1 42½ for valley and $1 30 for eastern. Receipts are dwindling. All attention is turned to the new crop, which farmers will soon be earnestly gathering. On the first day of the present month, Sol. King of Benton county cut a small field of wheat. This was a new and forward variety that turned out well. Yesterday afternoon harvesters began work in a field in Marion county, near Brooks' station, and several fields in that neighborhood are quite ready for the harvester. Throughout the valley counties are many fields that will yield forty bushels to the acre against ten last year. On high ground this increase is more marked. The Turner mills last year bought 20,000 bushels in their immediate neighborhood. This year they expect to secure 120,000 bushels in the same section. It is no exaggeration at the present time to say that the valley crop is four times as important as last year, and two weeks earlier. This will give farmers a chance to finish their field work in good season, and there will be little fear of the fall rains catching them. Last year they had the winter freeze and summer smoke to interfere with the outcome. Now everything is promising except prices. Interior merchants report farmers as willing to sell as early as possible. They have lived close for the past year and many an old account will be settled when wheat is sold. Altogether the prospect throughout the valley is one of great promise. The eastern section reports wheat as being in an advanced condition with a good yield assured.

Other markets in the week have ruled dull and generally lower. The English cargoes market dropped fully a sixpence. Chicago is down to 82c for August, and San Francisco is lower for both spot and futures. The selling markets of the world were affected by the same influences that have ruled for some time. Ample stocks with large offerings appear to have the upper hand. Operators find it necessary to move cautiously, and it is safe to presume that the first weeks of the new season will see a slow movement.

The quantity of Pacific coast wheat is now reduced to 2,731,898 centals and flour to 419,572 barrels, including 432,078 centals wheat and 154,556 barrels of flour from Oregon.

The aggregate supply of wheat in sight in the United States exclusive of California and Oregon and Canada July 21 was down to 14,893,100 bushels while that of corn was up to 8,530,650 bushels, against, on the preceding weekly exhibit, an aggregate of 15,414,609 bushels wheat and 8,460,803 bushels corn; and, a year ago, an aggregate of 20,240,460 bushels wheat and 14,631,577 bushels corn.

FLOUR—Very little in the way of grinding is now being done. The principal mills have closed down for repairs and overhauling. The market will consequently be eased for a time, yet there is sufficient stock to prevent an advance. The local call is steadily good, but the export movement is practically closed. Standard brands quoted $4 75.

MILLSTUFF—Receipts for the moment are large, mills being anxious to clean up. First values are fairly steady, and local values meantime. Jobbing prices are: Bran, $14@16; shorts, $20; middlings $25; chop, $22 50; ground barley, $24@26.

OATS—Stocks not so large and the inquiry to-day is rather better. Dealers having supplies are enhancing their pretensions, and orders are filled at 40@40c. Carload lots of good to choice are quoted at 41@42c.

POTATOES—New Oregon offering freely at one cent. Old in small request and values uncertain. California range from 1 to 1½ cents. Stocks are more than sufficient for requirements, and the market is weak.

ONIONS—In full stock, with reds selling at 1c and whites at 1½c.

VEGETABLES—Oregon cabbage moving freely at 2@2½c from store. Turnips and carrots 1½c. Other vegetables not generally in open market.

GREEN FRUIT—Apples selling down to $2 under larger stocks. Peaches in good movement at $1 75. Cherries scarcer and advanced to 9c. Apricots, $1@$1 25 per box. Gooseberries, 2½c. Currants, 5c, and plenty. Huckleberries and other small fruits are in retail stands.

TROPICAL FRUITS—Oranges selling down to $4. Lemons firm at $10 50 for Sicily. Limes, $1 25 per 100. Bananas, $3 75 per box. These fruits sell very freely with warmer weather. To-night's steamer will bring fresh stocks, and values of tropical and California fruits may show some change.

FISH—Choice local continues to bring 10 cents, and sells well, as other qualities are frequently in poor condition, selling down to 1½@4c.

PROVISIONS—Import of eastern for the week [illegible] 30 hf lard, 20 tcs, 5 bx, 16 cs hams, 25 cs [illegible] bacon. Stocks of side meats are by no means heavy, and full prices are had. Country cured hams now in stock are of better quality. Eastern are lower under lessened cost, and more competition. We quote bacon at 13@13½c; best local hams, 16@17c, country do, 14@15c; eastern do, 15@16c; shoulders, 8@9c; lard shows no change, the fluctuations elsewhere having no effect here. Quote fair quality tins 12c, kegs 11@12c; best local tins, 12@13c, eastern in small tins, 13@13½c.

DRIED FRUITS—Importations have been small in the week, stocks consequently being lower and dealers not caring to keep them up so late in the season. Local jobbing quotations are: Sun dried apples 9@10c; factory apples in boxes 14@16c; eastern in barrels 9½c; pears sliced and boxed 15c, plums sun dried 13@15c; boxed 16c; peaches 13@14c; Oregon prunes 12c; eastern and others [illegible]; figs 9c; raisins $1 75@2 per full box.

BUTTER—Very little coming in from the outside, as local receipts are quite sufficient, and the quality satisfactory to immediate use. Local brings 20@25c if good to fancy; California roll 25c, and eastern but 22½@24c.

POULTRY—Chickens have taken a better turn under lessened arrivals. We quote young $2 50@3 50, old $4@5. Other poultry in no demand, ducks offering at $6@9, and geese at $7@8.

EGGS—Small supplies sent the price up to 30c last night with some dealers asking 35c to-day. The present scarcity is not expected to continue, although harvest will interfere with supplies and doubtless keep prices at about 25 cents. Many recently sent were in an advanced stage of life.

HAY—Offerings are liberal with $10@12 paid for baled timothy. The quantity of old carried over is believed to be quite important. A few days of sunshine will send in new hay and values are expected to settle at about $10.

HIDES, ETC.—Market slow for hides, but our quotations are had without difficulty. Dry, usual selections, 16@16, green 7@8c. Tallow weak at 5½@6c. Furs and skins steady, and we quote: Dark beaver $2@3 25 per lb, valley summer deerskins 27½c, do winter do, 25c, eastern Oregon summer do 22½c, do winter do 15c per lb; elk skins 12½c per pound. The following sell by the skin: Black bear $2@5, brown do $6@8; dark fisher, $2 50@6, pale to $0@2; silver fox $5@25, cross do $2@5, red do 75c@1 50; lynx 37½@50c; prime dark marten, 75@75c; dark mink, 10@40c; land otter, $1 50@5 50; wolf, 37½@50c.

HOPS—Enhanced pretensions on part of growers has served to check new contracts and forced buyers to hold off. At present very little is being done, but advices occasionally report a grower as refusing 27½ or 30 cents for his crop. Advices regarding the English crop are mixed and one can form little idea of the true condition. A duller market rules at the east without forcing an actual decline. The condition of the market is largely influenced by crop reports and these appear to point to an improved condition of the English hop fields. Large lots of Pacific coast were sold in New York at 20@22c, when the market took a more quiet turn. California operators who contracted early have in many cases resold at a handsome profit. The Oregon and Washington fields are in fine condition and promise well.

WOOL—Receipts since April 1 to date have been 474,442 lbs valley and 5,847,046 lbs eastern, a total of 6,321,488 lbs. Shipments to San Francisco in the same time were 4,170,581 lbs, and eastward by rail to June 28, 644,863 lbs—a total outward movement of 4,815,944 lbs. The difference has been purchased by local mills or is in warehouse. The entire clip was placed at 11,000,000 lbs. It should reach this figure if the usual increase is had. There is yet to come forward 4,680,000 lbs, of which one-half will be received in this and next month. Low prices and a dull market are the main factors in the slow movement. In the week the aggregate of sales has been small, as buyers have lost interest. Parcels of eastern and valley changed hands within the range of 12@17½c, with one lot of choice reported sold at 15 cents. An average quality is quoted at 17@18 cents. Other markets have ruled quiet, and the volume of business in the great markets has been light. In some of the Mississippi states buyers have entered the field and purchased quite freely. These purchases will serve to lengthen the dull condition at central markets. A calm review of the business so far and prices had forces the conclusion that the situation is not nearly as bad as had been expected, at least so far as concerns this market. Last year the highest price was 20 cents, or 2 cents more than the present. The eastern markets for the same wool are all of 4 cents lower; scoured XXX brings 60@62 cents against 66 cents last year. Thus growers have actually had the better of the situation, and were it not for the depression would have realized a very satisfactory price, and that promptly. The poorer common grades never sell readily, and are always more or less of a drag.

The Merchandise Markets.

A very fair season movement has obtained; the grocery lines showing up well. Stocks which have been drawn upon as imports have not equaled withdrawals. Few dealers now look for any important increase in business or revival of trade until the fall season fairly opens. The summer trading cannot come up to recent expectations as wool has moved slowly and wheat does not promise to be sought after. Crops are everywhere looking well and this coast will have a more than average yield of cereals. With the least encouragement growers will be found to be willing sellers. Our fall trade largely depends upon the outside demand for our wheat. At present this is not promising and fall trade will be late. Merchandise values have ruled generally steady and fluctuations have not been at all wide. At San Francisco the volume of business has been moderate and until the present grain crop is gathered no special activity is expected. The following regarding that market is condensed from mail advices. New teas meets with fair demand within the range of 25@50c, while old is merely nominal. Coffee has shaded off in price under free receipts, the extreme low prices now ruling combined with the fact that stocks in the interior had become very much reduced has caused increased activity; imports by sea for first six months of 1884 were 119,294 bags. Imports of raw sugar for the same time were 90,118,273 pounds, which is much greater than for any former similar half year, those from Hawaii alone being about 13,000,000 pounds in excess of 1883. Sales are reported of 700 bags light Hawaiian at 5⅝c. Rice values favor the buyer; choice new Siam offering at $4 35; Hawaiian sold at 4¾c, 60 days, with none now in first hands. Nails weaker at $3@3 25. Tinplate in reduced stock, with advance looked for with a better concentration of stock.

The local request for farm implements is brisk, as harvest is close at hand.

BREAD, ETC.—The Oregon and Empire bakeries have consolidated under the firm name of Liebe, Hoelbing & Vose. They quote ship bread 3½c; pilot 4c; extra do, 4½; soda crackers, 6@6c.

BEANS—Reds and pinks in low stock. Trade only fair. Quote small whites, 3½c; bayos, 5½c, pinks, 5c; butter, 4½c.

COAL OIL—Market slow at 17@26c, as to brand.

COFFEE—The movement is somewhat better, and present values are not so firm. Quote Costa Rica, 12½@13½c; Salvador and Guatemala, 11@12½c; best Java, 20c.

CANNED GOODS—We quote: Corn, $2 00; tomatoes, 2½s, $1 25, and gallons $1 25; pie peaches, $2@2 25; table do, $3 50@2 75; assorted table fruits to $2 50; assorted pie do, gallons $4 25, 2½s $1 50@1 75.

PICKLES—Kegs, $1 12½@1 37½.

SALT—Stocks of Liverpool are very light, especially large containers. Quote a firm market at $17, $20 and $22 50. Half ground coast in full supply at $9 50@10 00 for 100s and 50s.

SUGARS—The call is steadily fair. Quote jobbing prices: (A) patent cube, 8¾c; (A) crushed, 9⅜c; dry granulated, 9⅜c; golden C, 8c; extra golden C, 8⅜c; extra powdered, 10c; D, 7c. Quotations are for barrels.

GRAIN BAGS—While the market wears a rather better tone, no actual advance can be noted. Holders ask 7½@8c for near delivery.

SALMON—Reports of an increased run and consequent larger pack are more frequent, and should July witness the usual upper the season cannot fall far behind last year's. The belief that 600,000 cases will about represent the canning is gaining ground. The exact condition has all along been withheld, or the pack has been declared to be short, yet those interested in this have not given reliable data in support of their claim. Values have not been helped by this cry, for outside buyers have heard it every season. If the situation has been at all affected it has been on the side of lower values, for buyers have held off for more certain knowledge. The movement has not been free, and only small lots are now being sent by rail. The Columbia, for San Francisco, July 7, carried 1050 cases, and the Oregon July 6, 1100 cases. British Columbia has shipped some through to Canada. The Jessie Jamieson was to fill up this week. The Woodlark and Delft are still receiving. In the face of a small pack elsewhere along the coast, that of the Columbia is all the more important. A considerable movement is continually noted in fresh eastward.

THE MEAT MARKET.

Quotations represent prices paid to dealers by slaughterers.

BEEF—Grass fed in good condition, 7c gross.

VEAL—Small, 10c, large, 6@8c.

MUTTON—Ewes, 2½c, other, 3@4c.

LAMBS—Good condition, $1 75.

HOGS—Choice fat, 6½c, fair to good [illegible], dressed, 8@8½c.

Markets by Telegraph.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.

Weather—Hazy, warm and still.

Receipts—17,700 ctls wheat, 14,786 qr sacks flour, 2,0[illegible] ctls oats, 2500 sks potatoes, 450 doz eggs.

Freights—The market is dull; 4,950 [illegible] from [illegible] vessels, August [illegible] for Cork, [illegible] asked.

Postmasters' Salaries.

The first regular annual revision of postmasters' salaries since the reduction of postage went into effect on the 1st. The revision applies to postmasters of the first, second and third classes—that is, all who are appointed by the president. The number of salaries reviewed by Mr. Scott, chief of the salary and allowance division, was 2,257. Of these 50 were of the first class, 460 of the second class and 2295 of the third class. The new presidential offices becoming third class offices to-day are 85. The total number of presidential offices is 2325, and 72 offices were dropped from third to fourth class by the present revision. The aggregate salaries of 2325 presidential postmasters July 1, 1884, amounted to $3,[illegible],200, and the aggregate salaries of 2[illegible] presidential postmasters October 1, 1883, was $3,707,[illegible]. The increase of presidential postoffices since the October readjustment is 128. The salaries of 50 first class postmasters October 1, 1883, was $250,[illegible], and the present readjustment gives them $2[illegible],[illegible], a net increase of only $700. The present readjustment is based on the receipts under the reduced rate of postage. Whenever a salary remains unreduced it proves a large increase in business. The reductions, though numerous, are trifling compared with the reduction in the rate of letter postage stamps, and in many places there is no reduction, and in some an increase, showing very large increases in the number of stamps sold.
